CIT Code of Conduct

As a counselor in training you are expected to display a positive attitude toward everyone at camp. You are expected to follow the camp rules and all the safety procedures.

Bellow you will find the list of CIT responsibilities that you must follow:

- Work together with the counselors in your assigned group
- Assist in supervising your group at all times
- Follow the daily schedule and be on time
- Be aware of individual needs of each of your campers.
- Encourage campers' involvement
- Assist swim staff and if necessary be in the water during swim times
- Follow the swim guidelines at all times
- Know and adhere to camp policies as addressed in training and in Camp JCC CIT manual.
- Never leave camp site without director's permission

I understand all of the above and agree to honor the CIT Code of Conduct as written. I understand that failure to do so may result in termination as a CIT.

PARENT CONSENT (to be completed by Parent/Guardian)

Dear Parent:

Thank you for encouraging your son/daughter to be a CIT at J-Camp. It is highly recommended that you discuss with him/her the commitment they will be making if they are selected to work and the group of campers they would feel most comfortable with (ages 6-10). Keep in mind this is a work situation and they must be agreeable to be with various age groups and camp policies. We try to accommodate the needs of the CIT, but at the same time, group openings in camp must be met.

I understand my child, _____, is committed to attend every day of camp that we signed up for and that the age group they are being placed in must first meet the needs of camp.
